FORD DENIES HATRED OF JEWS; AIM OF ARTICLES IS TO PROMOTE PEACE

International Jewish Bankers Who Finance Wars Are Object of His Attack—5,000 Jews on His Payroll—Doesn't Need Money and Wages Will Not Be Cut—Now Attacks Movie Productions as Depraving of Morals.

(Copyright, 1921, by International News Service.)

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Detroit, Mich., Feb. 12.—Henry Ford today for the first time broke his silence regarding his anti-Jewish propaganda in an exclusive interview with the Boston American and International News Service.

The widely discussed anti-Jewish articles in Ford's newspaper, the Dearborn Independent, are really a continuance of the voyage of the famous peace ship.

"They are to promote world peace, as Mr. Ford himself explained. The publication of these articles resulted in leading gentiles circulating a protest against anti-Semitism. The protest was signed by President Wilson, William Cardinal O'Connell and other leaders.

Various reasons have been alleged for the publication of the articles. Some said Ford did it to revenge himself on Jewish bankers who refused to give him a big loan. Others claimed he did it in the hope of getting such bankers to buy him off by offering the loan at a low rate. It has even been claimed that it had some connection with a plan to finance Germany.

Now comes Ford with his own explanation and that proves to be an echo of the famous Ford peace ship, which sailed to get the boys "out of the trenches by Christmas," and which proved a fiasco.

Not only is Ford willing to give explanation as to the "why" of the much discussed articles, but he ventured the thought that no newspaper would dare print his explanation. Since the publication of the articles, Ford has made himself as inaccessible as possible to interviews.

When by chance one reached him he displayed a desire to talk on agriculture, cow-leas milk and other subjects remote from the anti-Jewish articles. His explanation of this is that the press of America is controlled by Jews and no paper would quote him correctly.

His present interview might be summarized this way:
1—Ford is attacking the international Jewish bankers in order to promote world peace.
2—He denies that he is anti-Semitic, claiming he employs 5,000 Jews and would have signed the anti-Semitic protest had he been given opportunity.

His desire is to wake up "boob" gentiles and get them to display the same energy and earnestness as the Jews.

added to this the Ford explanation: "We cannot understand why anyone should wonder at the articles, or to have any question as to their origin and purpose. It is perfectly plain.

"Mr. Ford is the editor of a weekly newspaper. This paper has a big circulation. It carries no advertising. It is not afraid to tell the truth.

"We come across circumstances, a knowledge which was very vital to our readers and the public. We are printing the facts. We are fulfilling our debt to the public and to our readers.

"To our minds the situation is exactly the same as if the Boston American were to find a scandal in the Boston city hall and expose it."

Other employees in a position to know gave the information that the series of articles will run for some time to come.

Today the Dearborn Independent launched an attack on the American motion picture industry, picking out one of the biggest concerns in the country as its special target. It charged motion pictures are being used to show licentious pictures and that they are depraving the morals of the country.

The Sphinx of Dearborn, surrounded by a desert of Ford parts, is not as formidable as one would infer from the difficulty in reaching him. He is a slight, white haired man, with a face which radiates kindness and humanity and eyes which have a merry twinkle at times.

As he told his reasons for beginning the anti-Jewish campaign, the kindly eyes shone brightly and his whimsical smile were he a woman one might call it a "Mona Lisa"—added emphasis to his words.

As he said that he bore no hatred for the Jews one somehow felt that this man who controlled a happy, well fed, well dressed, well housed army of 30,000 workmen, really bore no hatred to any one.

MORE TIME GIVEN AUTOISTS

March 1 Now Named As Date When Cars Must Have 1921 Plates—Unprecedented Rush At License Office—Must Give Name Of Lessor.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Feb. 12.—New York state automobilists are to be given a further extension of time in which to secure their 1921 plates and licenses. Secretary of State John J. Lyons yesterday fixing March 1 as the date when the new plates will be absolutely imperative. Secretary Lyons has requested other states to recognize the 1920 plates from this state for another two weeks.

The state automobile bureau continues to be buried under an avalanche of business that has swept away all previous records for the annual rush period. In two weeks, Secretary Lyons has handled as much business as during any six weeks at this time of the year.

SHOT THAT BEGAN MATEWAN FIGHT

Was Fired From Under Store Door, Testifies One of Detectives Who Evicted Tenants—Then 100 or 150 Shots Were Fired In Few Seconds.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Williamson, W. V., Feb. 12.—Between 100 and 150 shots were fired in the "battle of Matewan," which lasted only a few seconds, testified John McDowell, a Baldwin-Felts detective, first witness in the "trigger trial" today.

His story was in effect that told exclusively to the International News Service a few days ago by Tom Felts, head of the detective agency. McDowell was a participant in the battle.

McDowell declared the first shot was fired from under the door of the hardware store.

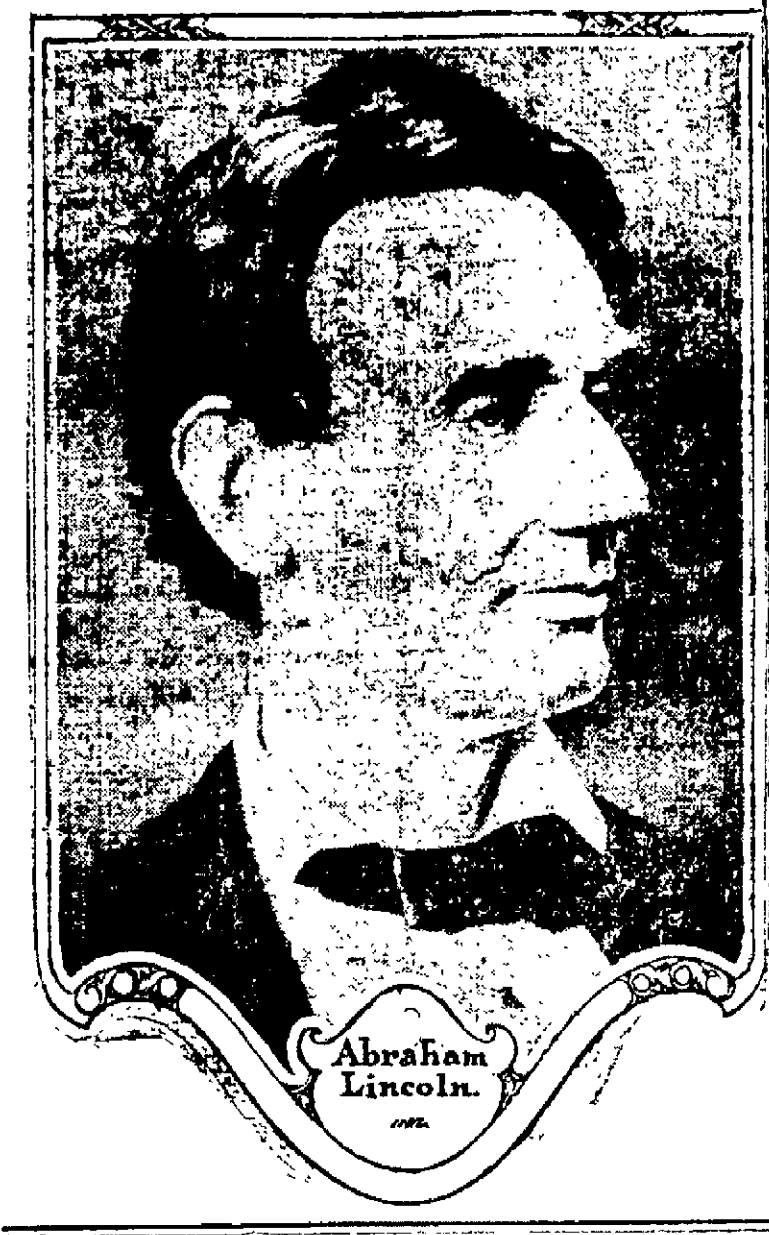

"The battle took place in front of Chambers store, just opposite the railroad station."

He said he saw somebody fall in the place where Albert Felts had stood when the shooting began. He did not know whom the victim was.

McDowell was one of the 12 Felts detectives who had evicted striking miners and their families on the day of the battle.

He said he had a rifle and revolver on the "exclusion trip."

"Why did you load your rifle?" asked J. J. Conniff, examining the witness.

INCREASED RATES OR COMPANY MUST QUIT, WARNS PRESIDENT BEAL

In Face of Evidence and Court Orders Gas Company Head Finds It Hard to See How City's Petition Can Succeed.

The Freeman has obtained the views of the president of the Kingston Gas and Electric Company, on the subject of gas rates in connection with the order which the city has obtained asking the company to show cause before the court on next Monday, February 14, as to why the petition of the city should not be granted.

T. R. Beal, the company's president, stated that apparently the order was the result of a petition by the Taxpayers' Association to the common council. Mr. Beal stated that it was difficult to see how the petition could succeed because if the rates were not increased, it would result in so impoverishing the company that it could not continue in business as the operating losses at the time of the petition were at the rate of about $50,000 per year with the result that the company would soon be unable to meet its obligations and was threatened with disaster.

The company's president stated that the company's property was clearly presented in detail the income and operating expenses and losses. The valuation of the company's property, as fixed by the commission, was also offered in evidence. After full examination of the figures presented by the company, it was found that the only question that could be raised was as to the company's right to increase rates for gas on account of a clause in the contract for street lighting. The result was that the commission, after fully studying the case, granted an increase for the reason that the courts in this and other cities have held that it is not only within the power of the Public Service Commission, but it is their duty to grant rate increases under conditions such as in the Kingston case.

In this case the company asked for a return on its investment in the gas business, but the commission fixed a rate for gas far less than the rate asked for with the understanding that if at the end of six months the company could not get along with the increased rates, it could apply for further relief.

The officers of the company have endeavored to give wide publicity to the facts in the case, and it is believed that the great majority of the people recognize the need for an increased gas rate. Based on these facts which have not been successfully controverted, it is shown that the increased rates must be charged because the interest of the public and company is identical. So much is this so that where property is sold for the purpose of being used in the operation of a business, the company has a right to secure a reasonable return on its investment.

The company's president stated that the company's property was clearly presented in detail the income and operating expenses and losses. The valuation of the company's property, as fixed by the commission, was also offered in evidence. After full examination of the figures presented by the company, it was found that the only question that could be raised was as to the company's right to increase rates for gas on account of a clause in the contract for street lighting. The result was that the commission, after fully studying the case, granted an increase for the reason that the courts in this and other cities have held that it is not only within the power of the Public Service Commission, but it is their duty to grant rate increases under conditions such as in the Kingston case.

All utilities have undergone a similar fate. Four years ago all utilities were forced to pay a rate of return of 6 per cent. Now the rate is 8 per cent. The utilities have no choice but to raise their rates.

KINGSTON AUTO DEALERS START FUND TO BUILD EXHIBITION HALL

Subscribe $1,000 a Minute to Fund for Erecting a Building in Which to Hold Future Shows—Kingston's Automobile Show Has Outgrown the Armory and Must Have More Room.

Originating in a jocular remark, "let's put up a building," made when it was apparent that the Kingston Automobile Show has outgrown the armory, there being over 70 cars to exhibit and space in the armory for only 60, the matter of an exhibition hall was taken up seriously and $7,000 subscribed in less than seven minutes at a meeting of automobile dealers on Friday evening. A site on the Kingston Fair Grounds was offered free of charge and the matter will be taken up more seriously later.

Such a building could not only be used for the automobile show, but for many other purposes, including an agricultural fair each year that would bring many visitors to Kingston.

Three new dealers, Dr. Wright J. Smith, John Van Kleeck and Louis Brown, will exhibit cars at the Automobile Show this year, calling for eight spaces more than last year, and the problem of placing 88 cars in 60 spaces caused the discussion that brought out the sentiment in favor of erecting an exhibition building.

The discussion, by the way, was long and loud, cordial and acid. Several men expressed willingness to have their allotment reduced by one space each, but after these heroic volunteers had made their sacrifices there are still a demand for two spaces more than existed. Efforts to "leave it to John," were met by "I'll be damned if you will," on the part of John. A resolution was passed that all who had not voluntarily consented to reduce their space, draw lots to determine which should give up an additional space, but one man announced that he'd be damned if he'd draw any lot—least of numbers at all and the deadlock continued until this man announced that while he would be gold-dug if he would draw, he would voluntarily relinquish one space if the president would guarantee that another man not present would also relinquish a space. The guarantee was given and the matter was settled without bloodshed or the intervention of Trouble Committee.

March 21, April 1 and 2 was definitely souled on as the time of the show.

GASOLINE DROPS 2 CENTS A GALLON

Reduction in the wholesale price of gasoline having reached Kingston at last, retail dealers in the city will reduce the price on Monday to 33 cents a gallon. The price is now 35 cents.

BARACA CLASS HELD BANQUET

Friday Evening the Baptist Men Preved, With Aid of Ladies of Philathia Class, That They Were "Royal Banqueters"—Social Evening Well Spent.

The men of the Baraca Class of the Waris Street Baptist Sunday school entertained the men of the church at a beefsteak dinner in the church chapel Friday evening which was prepared and served by the ladies of the Philathia Class. At the close of the banquet Floyd W. Powell, president of the Baracas, presided as toastmaster, and eloquent addresses were delivered by the Rev. George M. Cranston of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church and the Rev. P. C. Weyant of the Trinity M. E. Church. A fine musical, vocal and recital program was also rendered.

The men of the church and a few invited guests met at the chapel at 6:30 o'clock that evening, and in spite of the snow storm there was a large attendance. After a sort of get acquainted period the orchestra composed of Prof. Williams, Prof. Knapton, Grant Johnston and Walter Powell struck into a march and the banqueters assumed their places at the tables which had been temptingly spread in the large Sunday school room.

The invitations sent out had this to say in regard to the menu, "The Philathia ladies will surprise you." And they most delightfully surprised the guests with a beefsteak dinner with all the trimmings. There was plenty to eat and everything was faultlessly served, and at the close the ladies came in for a well deserved vote of thanks.

The Baraca Class is a class of men in the Sunday school of the church and Mr. Powell who had been recently elected president of the class presided at the banquet and eloquently welcomed the guests, and that he was glad to see that so many had availed themselves of the invitation to be present. He said that the younger generation of singers, while Mr. Powell was a worthy representative of the older generation. Both were heartily greeted with applause and responded with responses.

Christian S. Am, whose recitation was always a treat, gave a delightful humorous selection and responded to an encore.

"WRITE YOUR OWN TICKET," HE SAID

So the Hats at the Retail Branch Banquet Are Up to Mr. Lovin and That's Why His Manner is so Pre-occupied These Days.

"It's all right about music and speakers at the Retailers' banquet, John M. Glinn, Secretary of State Lyons and Col. Gillett satisfy me and ought to satisfy anybody, but what do we get to eat?" So writes a Kingston business man, who reads the Freeman, in a note to President Rutherford of the Retail Branch.

Mr. Rutherford couldn't answer the question, nobody can, unless it be C. H. Lovin, chairman of the committee on arrangements, and Mr. Lovin is very reticent on the subject. He goes about wearing an abstracted manner and a look of profound thought. The reason is that when he put the question to C. A. Hungerford of the Eagle Hotel just before Mr. Hungerford left on a trip to Bermuda to rest up in order to be prepared for the strain of this banquet, the reply was, "That's up to you—anything you want—you can write your own ticket."

Mr. Lovin is engaged in writing the ticket. That's why he seems so abstracted. For he means to write a ticket that will break records, and to do that calls for time and thought. Meanwhile tickets are in great demand and the chance that there will be a clearance sale at $2.95 grows more remote.

Brook Taken to Asylum.
Under Sheriff Tunis Haulenbeck and Night Jailor Seth Joelynn went by touring car this morning to Matineau, Dutchess county, with Howland and Brock, where Brock was placed into the custody of the superintendent of the state institution for criminal insane, on the commitment of County Judge Joseph M. Fowler in county court Thursday. Brock, while trying to escape from Harry M. Kidder, an orderly from the State Custodial School of Rome, after he had taken him in charge at Ellenville, in August last, struck Kidder, who died from the effects of the blow. He said he was anxious to go to Matineau.

Anna Case to Sing.
Anna Case, the renowned soprano, will sing at the Christian Endeavor service of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church tomorrow evening. The service starts promptly at 6:45 and the public is cordially invited.

Endorsed by Frank Finley and Richard Bame, Mr. Finley represented the younger generation of singers, while Mr. Bame was a worthy representative of the older generation. Both were heartily greeted with applause and responded with responses.

K.H.S. AND HUDSON BREAK EVEN

Boys Outplayed and Lost 18 to 8. But Girls Five Wins Easily, Miss Byrne Alone Making 26 Points.

The local high school quintet dropped another game to the Hudson High team Friday, the up-river team winning out to the tune of 18 to 8. The Hudson team outplayed the local boys at all stages of the game and the Kingston boys seemed never to be able to get properly started. Only one field goal was scored by the locals, and that by Albright. Hudson played a wonderful defensive game and the local boys were never able to get within striking distance of their basket.

However, the sting of defeat was somewhat lessened when the local high school girls defeated the Hudson girls 49-9. Miss Anna Byrne carrying the ball 18 times for a total of 36 field points. For three quarters the local girls held the up-river team to a lone point but during the last period the Hudson girls located the basket for eight more points.

The Kingston boys started off the game with Thompson and Rowland, forwards, Albright, center; Davenport and McAndrew, guards, and for some time the two teams fought on equal grounds. Then Slominsky dropped in one for Hudson and Albright caged the ball from the foul line. Atwood dropped in two field baskets, sending the visitors alone for a five point lead, and from then on they gradually drew ahead. Kingston seemed unable to break through the visiting team's excellent guard. At the end of the first half the score stood 11 to 3 in favor of the visitors. Several changes in the line-up just before the end of the first half failed to help the locals and the second half was started with the original line-up.

Kingston's chance for a victory was lessened when Thompson and McAndrew were banished from the game for four personal fouls.

The score for boys' game:

The large assembly room where the dance will be held has been most artistically decorated for the occasion and Harry Maitzen, leader of the lodge, has been appointed to secure a large orchestra to furnish a concert program and render dance music of the latest popular numbers. Each succeeding dance given by the Elks has grown in popularity, the ladies attending in goodly numbers.

Elks Dance Monday. The members of Kingston Lodge, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, are making big arrangements for the Valentine dance to be given Monday evening at the Elks Club, Fair street.

ANNIVERSARY OF PYTHIANS FEB. 18

The anniversary of the Order of Knights of Pythias will be fittingly observed by Franklin Lodge, No. 27, on Friday evening, February 18, at Pythian Hall. It will mark the completion of fifty-seven years of Pythian life and activity and on the next day this beneficent order will enter upon its fifty-eighth period, admirably enriched by its experience in the high calling of service to mankind.

Pythian knighthood has been a power for good during all these years and has proved to be an institution well justified by reason of its proud standing and manifold benefactions. With the attainment of prestige, strength and possession, its responsibilities have correspondingly increased and multiplied. It stands today for constructive progress, enlarging and embracing opportunities of life. Its consecrated idealism means purity of purpose and real universal fraternity. It is absolutely non-sectarian and non-political.

The Knights of Pythias, like many other organizations, commemorate the recurring anniversary and passing of epochs in its life. The object is to pause and review the achievements of the order, the richness of its service to mankind, its wonderful benefactions, its well-rounded career of usefulness, its high-mountain asceticism, and above all, its splendid influence for good in teaching and inculcating the ideals of friendship in the hearts and lives of men.

The commemorative exercises under the auspices of Franklin Lodge will be one of entertainments and education. It will consist of short addresses upon the order and upon the lives of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. There will be a musical and entertainment program after which refreshments will be served, and dancing and sociability enjoyed.

The ceremonies will be for the members of Franklin Lodge and A. W. Reynolds Temple, Pythian sisters, and the members of their respective families and their friends. Franklin Lodge has never enjoyed a better or more favorable condition than at present. It will be the host of the Grand Lodge which will meet in Kingston during the last week in July and it is expected there will be upwards of one thousand representatives and knights in attendance. The complete program for the commemorative services will be announced later.

CLINTONDALE IN ULSTER COUNTY

Poughkeepsie Newspaper Would Like to Give Dutchess County Credit For Model Packing Plant in Southern Ulster Hamlet—Mr. Deyo Speaks At Horticultural Meeting.

The following paragraph appears in Thursday's issue of the Poughkeepsie Eagle-News under the heading "Dutchess County Shows Way To Apple Growers."

"Of the counties which reported through their delegates on co-operative association work, at Wednesday night's session of the State Horticultural Society, Dutchess takes the lead in the actual doing of things. Dutchess has now two co-operative associations, one at Clintondale and the other at Salt Point."

The Eagle-News reporter evidently needs to dust off his geography and take a better look at the map of New York state. There has never been a time when Clintondale was in Dutchess county, and being on the opposite side of the river, it is not likely that it ever will be. Clintondale is in Ulster county and a better apple country will not be found in the Hudson valley.

Joseph Deyo, manager of the co-operative plant at Clintondale gave a talk before the State Horticultural Society in session in Poughkeepsie. He told of the fine packing station erected by the Clintondale Co-operative Packing Association and of the success that has been met. The association now numbers about 160 members.
